Great Fire of London Workshop

To complete our topic on The Great Fire of London, we have arranged for the children to attend a workshop on Tuesday 8 November. <<firstname>> will use practical activities and drama to find out what it was like living through the Great Fire.

History Off the Page is a company, which provides immersive and practical workshops to schools. The workshop, which will take place during normal school hours, will give the children an experience of what life would have been like in London in 1666.

The day is an optional costumed day and <<firstname>> may wish to dress up in simple costumes to help them feel the part.

If you have a current DBS check, and are available to come in and help, please do let me know.

This workshop has been subsidised by the FOWA, which we are very grateful for. However, we do need to ask for a voluntary contribution of £19.75 per child towards this workshop. Unfortunately, if not enough contributions are received then the workshop may have to be cancelled. Contributions should be paid online through your Sco-Pay account.

No pupil will be prevented from taking part in this experience, but if you have difficulty in affording this amount, please do speak to Mrs Hall as soon as possible.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Kind Regards

Mrs K Houghton
Swan Class Teacher
