

Karen Herschleb – co-opted governor

I am a secondary English teacher with 15 years of experience teaching primarily in international schools. I have a M.Ed. in Educational Leadership from the UCL Institute of Education and I am interested in leadership development in schools, particularly the distribution and development of middle leadership. I have a child currently in primary school and I volunteered to be a school governor to support education in my local community. I look forward to supporting the continuous work of creating engaging, rigorous, and dynamic learning experiences for the children of West Ashtead School.
